Chairman's Remarks

Alan D. Wilson, Chairman and CEO, commented, "McCormick delivered a solid financial performance in 2014, despite a difficult environment. Our on-trend categories are growing in markets around the world with increasing consumer demand for flavor. We are driving growth in sales and profit and, in 2015, are stepping up our cost reduction activities to fuel our growth.

"In 2014, we grew sales 3% in local currency, achieved an 8% increase in adjusted earnings per share and generated more than $500 million in cash flow from operations. Both our consumer and industrial businesses achieved higher sales and operating income. We returned a record $437 million of cash to shareholders, which was a 22% increase from 2013. Including the benefit of our acquisition in China, we grew sales in emerging markets 14%, and these markets now account for 17% of total company sales, up from 10% in 2011. In markets around the world, we are making solid progress with product innovation, and in 2014, new products launched in the past three years accounted for 8% of sales. We also increased our investment in brand marketing nearly $20 million and are building customer intimacy to drive growth. To fuel this growth, employees throughout McCormick made significant improvements in productivity, generating $65 million of cost savings under our CCI program.

"We participate in flavor categories that are well-aligned with the shift in consumer demand toward fresh ingredients, healthy meals and great flavor. We believe that these latest eating trends are here to stay. While we have a growing and profitable business, as a food company, we operate in a competitive environment. We are currently addressing competitive in-roads in our U.S. consumer business by accelerating innovation, building our brand support and applying our analytics to help retail customers optimize the spice and seasoning and recipe mix categories. We made good progress in 2014 with the U.S. launch of Grill Mates burger seasonings, gluten free recipe mixes, skillet sauces and other new products, as well as additional brand marketing to support these launches, expand our holiday campaign and reinforce our product quality. These efforts will continue in 2015.

"Our focus is on people, growth and performance. Our employees are engaged in the business and a key ingredient in our success. For both our consumer and industrial business, we have effective growth strategies that include building our brands, expanding geographically, greater customer intimacy and innovation. For 2015, we have a strong line-up of innovation that includes flavored sea salt grinders and a relaunch of our entire gourmet line in the U.S., Indian seasonings in the U.K. and new Vahine brand dessert items in France. We are fueling these growth initiatives with cost savings from our CCI program. In addition, we continue to evaluate our operations and have several streamlining actions underway to lower our cost structure and remain competitive. In 2015, we expect to deliver strong sales and profit performance and, along with our dividend and share repurchase activity, increased return for McCormick's shareholders."

Fourth Quarter 2014 Results

The company grew fourth quarter sales 2% in local currency. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales rose slightly from the year-ago period. Consumer sales grew 3% in local currency, driven by pricing actions and higher volume and product mix. Sales growth in the Americas region and in China led this performance. During the fourth quarter, the company increased its brand marketing by $5 million to drive future sales growth for the consumer business. Due in part to this investment, as well as a less favorable mix of business, adjusted operating income for the consumer business declined 4% versus the year-ago quarter. Industrial business sales in local currency were slightly below the fourth quarter of 2013, with the impact of pricing actions largely offsetting lower volume and product mix. The decline in volume and product mix was mainly due to weak demand from quick service restaurants in China. While industrial business adjusted operating income rose 13% in fiscal year 2014 versus the year-ago period, for the fourth quarter of 2014 adjusted operating income declined 16% versus the year-ago period, due in part to an increase in material costs and higher incentive compensation expense.

Income from unconsolidated operations grew 37% led by a significant increase in sales and profit by McCormick's joint venture in Mexico. Earnings per share was $1.14 in the fourth quarter of 2014 compared to $0.98 in the fourth quarter of 2013. On a comparable basis, adjusted earnings per share of $1.16 in the fourth quarter of 2014 compared to $1.20 in the year-ago period. This decline was primarily due to lower adjusted operating income, offset in part by higher income from unconsolidated operations and lower shares outstanding.

Fiscal Year 2014 Results

For the fiscal year ended November 30, 2014, the company grew sales 3% in local currency from the year-ago period, with contributions from pricing and acquisitions, and a minimal impact in foreign currency. The sales impact of volume and product mix was slightly below fiscal year 2013, with growth in international markets. The strongest contribution to this growth was in the China consumer business, driven by an 18% increase in the base business, which excludes the additional growth from the acquisition of WAPC. This increase in international markets was offset by a decline in the U.S. consumer business, where the company has actions underway to improve performance. Gross profit margin rose 40 basis points and the company achieved $69 million in cost savings mainly from its CCI program. For the fiscal year, the company increased its investment in marketing by $19 million to support the growth of its brands around the world.

In fiscal year 2014, earnings per share was $3.34 compared to $2.91 in 2013. On a comparable basis, adjusted 2014 earnings per share of $3.37 rose 8% from $3.13 in the year-ago period, driven largely by higher adjusted operating income, increased income from unconsolidated operations and lower shares outstanding. Net cash provided by operating activities reached $504 million in 2014, an 8% increase from the year-ago period, driven largely by higher adjusted net income and lower retirement plan contributions.

Significant Cost Reduction Activity

McCormick is investing in growth through brand marketing, product innovation, acquisitions and other initiatives. These investments are being fueled with significant cost savings from the company's CCI program, with employees around the world working to improve productivity. In the past five years, costs have been reduced $300 million through this program. Beginning in 2013, the company embarked on certain streamlining actions to further reduce its cost structure and remain competitive. In 2013 and 2014, reorganization activity has been underway in the Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) region and streamlining actions have been taken in the U.S. and Australia.

In 2015, McCormick has significant cost reduction activity underway and has set a goal to achieve cost savings of at least $85 million. McCormick's CCI program is expected to deliver at least $65 million of cost savings, and savings from previously announced streamlining actions are estimated to be $10 million. In addition, McCormick is planning to take streamlining actions as part of a North America effectiveness initiative. These actions are expected to generate annual cost savings of approximately $25 million by 2016, with $10 million realized in 2015. In 2015, the company expects the actions in North America to result in approximately $20 million of special charges, to be paid largely in cash.

2015 Financial Outlook

McCormick expects further global growth in consumer demand for flavor. Through 2019, Euromonitor International projects a mid-single digit compound annual growth rate in global retail sales of herbs and spices. With a global category share above 20%, the company expects to help drive this growth and increase its sales of herbs and spices, along with other flavor products, through brand marketing, product innovation, expanded distribution and acquisitions.

In 2015, the company expects to grow sales 4% to 6% in local currency. Based on prevailing exchange rates, currency is expected to lower this sales range by 3 percentage points. Raw and packaging material costs are expected to increase at a mid-single digit rate. The company plans to largely offset this increase with higher pricing and at least $85 million of cost savings. Operating income is expected to grow 2% to 4% from operating income of $603 million in 2014. Excluding an estimated $20 million of special charges in 2015 and special charges of $5 million recorded in 2014, adjusted operating income is expected to grow 4% to 5% from adjusted operating income of $608 million in 2014. This 2015 outlook reflects the projected sales growth, as well as a $10 million increase in retirement benefit expenses, the unfavorable impact of foreign currency exchange rates and additional brand marketing support. The increase in retirement benefit expense is mainly due to the non-cash impact of a lower discount rate, as well as new mortality assumptions that reflect a longer life expectancy.

McCormick projects 2015 earnings per share to be in the range of $3.41 to $3.48. Excluding the impact of an estimated $20 million in special charges, adjusted earnings per share of $3.51 to $3.58 is expected. In addition to higher adjusted operating income, the company expects income from unconsolidated operations to grow at least 10% and has plans to reduce shares outstanding by approximately 2% in the absence of acquisition activity. Excluding the impact of any special charges in the first quarter of 2015, adjusted earnings per share is expected to be increase slightly from the year-ago result of $0.62, with the projected favorable impact of higher sales, cost savings and a lower tax rate, offset in part by the projected unfavorable impact of increased brand marketing, currency rates, higher retirement expense and material cost inflation versus planned pricing actions that will not yet be fully implemented. For fiscal year 2015, strong cash flow is expected to continue, with plans to return a significant portion to McCormick's shareholders through dividends and share repurchases.

Business Segment Results

Consumer Business

(in millions)

	Three months ended		Twelve months ended
	11/30/2014	11/30/2013	11/30/2014	11/30/2013
Net sales	$ 773.3	$ 764.9	$ 2,625.5	$ 2,538.0
Operating income	169.3	146.1	470.6	440.0
Operating income, excluding special charges and loss on voluntary pension settlement	172.0	178.4	474.3	472.3

For the fourth quarter of 2014, consumer business sales rose 3% in local currency from the year-ago period, with the increase driven by pricing, as well as volume and product mix. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales rose 1%.

- Consumer sales in the Americas rose 4% in local currency, with contributions from higher volume and product mix, as well as pricing. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales rose 3%. Volume and product mix included a favorable impact of approximately 4% from a shift in retailer purchases that related to a U.S. holiday display program. As previously indicated, purchases under this program were more skewed to the third quarter in fiscal year 2013 than in 2014, due in part to a price increase that was effective early in the fourth quarter of 2013. In the second half of 2014, consumer sales in the Americas grew 2% in local currency from the year-ago period, driven by pricing actions, new product activity and additional brand marketing support.
- Consumer sales in EMEA were comparable to the fourth quarter of 2013 in local currency, with higher pricing largely offsetting a decline in volume and product mix. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales declined 5%. Growth from product innovation and expanded distribution was more than offset by competitive conditions and lower retail customer inventory versus the year-ago period.
- Fourth quarter consumer sales in the Asia/Pacific region were comparable to the year-ago period, and the impact of foreign currency was minimal. In this region, 5% sales growth in China was offset by declines in India and other parts of the region this period.

Operating income, excluding special charges and the 2013 loss on voluntary pension settlement, was $172 million for the consumer business. This compared to $178 million in the fourth quarter of 2013, with the decline due in part to a $5 million increase in brand marketing support and less favorable mix of business, offset in part by the impact of higher sales and cost savings.

Industrial Business

(in millions)

	Three months ended		Twelve months ended
	11/30/2014	11/30/2013	11/30/2014	11/30/2013
Net sales	$ 400.3	$ 405.2	$ 1,617.7	$ 1,585.4
Operating income	30.1	28.0	132.4	110.5
Operating income, excluding special charges and loss on voluntary pension settlement	30.3	36.0	133.9	118.5

For the fourth quarter, industrial business sales were slightly below the year-ago period in local currency, with lower volume and product mix largely offset by the favorable impact of pricing actions. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales declined 1% when compared to the fourth quarter of 2013.

- Industrial sales in the Americas rose 1% in local currency from the fourth quarter of 2013, and were slightly below the year-ago period when including the impact of foreign currency. Higher pricing more than offset a decline in volume and product mix that related primarily to weak demand from quick service restaurants. Growth in sales of snack seasonings in both the U.S. and Mexico remains strong.
- In EMEA, the company grew industrial sales 2% in local currency. Including the impact of foreign currency, EMEA industrial sales rose 1% from the fourth quarter of 2013. The company increased prices 5% in response to higher material costs this period, which was offset in part by a lower volume and product mix.
- Industrial sales in the Asia/Pacific region declined 9% in local currency, mainly due to weaker demand from quick service restaurants in China. Including the impact of foreign currency, sales declined 10% from the year-ago period.

In the fourth quarter of 2014, industrial business operating income, excluding special charges and the 2013 loss on voluntary pension settlement, was $30 million compared to $36 million in the fourth quarter of 2013. This decline was due in part to higher material costs, as well as higher employee incentive expense. The increase in employee incentive expense relates to the 13% increase in industrial business adjusted operating income for the 2014 fiscal year.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The table below includes financial measures of operating income, net income and diluted earnings per share excluding the impact of special charges recorded in fiscal years 2013 and 2014. These relate to reorganization activity in McCormick's EMEA region, the realignment of certain manufacturing operations in the U.S. industrial business, and organizational streamlining in the U.S. and Australia. In addition, the financial measures of operating income, net income and diluted earnings per share in both the fourth quarter and fiscal year 2013 also exclude a loss on voluntary pension settlement that related to a lump sum payout program offered to former U.S. employees with deferred vested pension benefits.

These are non-GAAP financial measures which are prepared as a complement to our financial results prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles. We believe this non-GAAP information is important for purposes of comparison to prior periods and development of future projections and earnings growth prospects. These non-GAAP measures may be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but they should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP results.
